The designs are pared down, good jumping off point for your own art, I used this to draw designs for silk scarves I was painting, it made me see flowers and leaves in a different way, composition, and negative space are also important in the illustrations.

French designer Maurice Pillard Verneuil (1869-1942) was fascinated by the decorative potential of flowers. This unique source book presents Verneuil's dazzling variations on bulbs, garden flowers, wildflowers, and aquatic plants for wallpapers, textiles, ceramics, stained glass, carved wood, and metalwork. DECORATIVE FLOWERS reproduces Verneuil's careful botanical studies including excerpts from his own 1908 book. 178 color illustrations.
