Everyone kept picking up the book and looking at it and talking about how GREAT it was! It's beautifully drawn and designed - and very inspiring! It makes it look easy and FUN to be very creative in black and white.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. This is a Yes.By M SheaExcellent book with approachable exercises with not too spendy materials. I am very happy to own this book.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. What I love so much is that most of the exercises can be done quickly. You don't need hours for each exercise but there is much to dive into with each one and they are clever enough that even seasoned artists can learn something. And, the artist's gallery and work at the end of the book is just delightful.

Hone your drawing skills and your eye for design by learning to draw in black and white. Working with only positive and negative lines and shapes keeps the focus on the basics: composition, balance, and harmony. And using white and black gel, ink, and paint pens on black, tan, and gray papers allows you to experience drawing in a whole new way! Drawing in Black White is a clever drawing and design book that contains 36 inspiring exercises, a gallery of artwork, and 16 black, gray, and tan sheets for drawing, doodling, and experimenting. You'll find lessons on drawing, pattern drawing, drawing with cut paper, and simple collage. Learn to see your drawings a new way by drawing in black and white!

About the Author Deborah Velasquez is an artist-designer and blogger who creates paintings, prints, ceramics, cards, textiles and mobiles. She loves the mix of design, words, art and craft. She studied graphic design and textile and fashion design and has a millinery certification from the Fashion Institute of Technology. She shows her work in galleries, is active on Etsy and on multiple social media platforms, and ran a successful Kickstarter project to get funding to create a larger art print and textile collection using silkscreen equipment. A Brooklyn original, she now lives the creative life in wooded hills of Pleasant Valley, CT with her husband and two sons.
