I used the first edition of this book for many years. I found her comments to be accurate and her recommendations to beat FTD by miles. I have used this book to send flowers all over the US. Each and every time I use someone she recommends I get a call back asking, "How did you find such a beautiful florist?". I am looking for the updated edition, as some of the people she knew in 1989 have gone out of business. I am looking forward to an expanded and updated list, as I'm betting that many more cities are covered.

Barbera Brooks has also created an online flower wire service to send flowers all around the world. She has over 500 florists. I have sent successfully flowers to London, Colorado, Wyoming, New York, Washington DC, Massachusetts, California, and other places.
